VOLUME XXXIV. NUMBER 40.

IRONTON, MO.
THURSDAY, MARCH 28, 1901.

Announcement.
We are authorized to announce J. M. HAWKINS as a candidate for Commissioner of Public Schools for Iron County, Mo., subject to the decision of the voters at the ensuing election—April 24, 1901.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Who'll fool you Monday?
Henry Adolph has a new ad.
The Easter lilies are plentiful.
School election next Tuesday.
Easter cards at Henry Adolph's.
Ironton has no city election this year.

The Ladies' Guild meets at Mrs. M. Ringo's, to-day.
Work on the railroad bridge progresses very slowly.

County court is in session this week, settling with the collector.
The move to build a new hotel in Arcadia seems to have subsided.

Gus. Kaesemacher recently bought the Hancock farm, west of Pilot Knob.

The physicians report a number of people suffering from colds and the grip.

W. G. Fairchild will remove his store to the building north of the REGISTER office.

Salem is arranging for electric lights. Ironton cannot afford to be the only town in darkness.

The band will give another spider-web party and dance at the Academy of Music, April 8th.

Quite a number of train men have been "let out" at De Soto recently. Too much booze and gambling.

Several people from here will attend the performance of "In White Robes" at Poplar Bluff to-morrow night.

A meeting of the committee of St. Paul's Church will be held this (Thursday) evening at Mrs. Ake's at 7:30.

C. A. Truitt has purchased the store of the Schneider Granite Company and will have charge of the same in the future.

The two saloons, it is said, were the first places rebuilt and ready for business after the big fire in Bismarck last week.

A. C. Kimmel of Jordan has purchased the interest of Mr. McCabe in the saw mill of McLeod & McCabe at Graniteville.

A great number of people from the Valley went to Bismarck Sunday to see the ruin wrought by the recent fire in that town.

Mrs. Mary McFarland Tuesday sold her farm in Bellevue to D. H. Hartman. Consideration, $1750. It is a fine piece of property.

"The sin which can never be forgiven" will be the subject at St. Paul's Episcopal Church next Sunday evening at 7:30. All welcome.

The practice of harboring a lot of tramps in the sand house at Arcadia is an imposition on the people of the Valley. It should be stopped.

Commissioner Hawkins has had everything his own way in his candidacy for re-election. A fitting compliment to a competent and worthy official.

Robert Johnson of Reynolds county has leased the Seitz store building at Middlebrook and will engage in the general merchandise business there.

A very disastrous cyclone visited the city of Birmingham, Alabama, last Monday. We trust our former citizen, Mr. J. L. Brierley, escaped the storm's wrath.

Miss Laughlin, who will have charge of Lopez's millinery department again this season, arrived Sunday. A magnificent stock of spring millinery will be found there.

The remains of James Mulligan, who died about a year ago in Cuba of yellow fever, arrived here last week and were interred in the Catholic cemetery at Pilot Knob Friday.

W. T. Barnhouse has purchased from P. W. Whitworth the store building on Main street for several years occupied by W. G. Fairchild. The price paid was $650.

At the M. E. Conference which has been in session at Bolivar, Mo., the past week Rev. W. R. McCormack was appointed to Fruitland station. Ironton is yet to be supplied.

Collector O'Neal says we were in error in stating the collections were not as good this year as last. He says the delinquent list this year is the smallest in the history of the county.

Wesley Sprague of Dent county was arraigned before the U. S. Commissioner here Wednesday on the charge of selling whiskey without paying federal tax. The defendant was held for the District Court, St. Louis.

Again we ask, why work hasn't been resumed at Pilot Knob? When work was quit on the shaft last fall 'twas said if McKinley was elected operations would soon be resumed. Why hasn't the promise been fulfilled?

The degree of doctor of medicine was conferred on James Hardy Martin of Ironton by the faculty of Beaumont College, St. Louis, March 27, 1901. We congratulate our young friend and are certain he will be successful in his profession.

The hour for the morning service at the Presbyterian church has been permanently changed from 11 o'clock to 9:30, and the Sunday School hour to 9:15. Next Sunday the regular quarterly communion service will be held. This will be the last service of the present church year, as the new year begins April 1st.

Tom Persons and John Masterson were taken before Squire Fairchild Tuesday charged with cutting timber on the Allen land south of town. They pleaded guilty and were fined $1 and costs each. Persons liquidated, but Masterson went to jail. 'Tis a pity the penalty is not greater. Timber stealing should be stopped.

Silas Vaughn, the long established and old reliable knight of the razor, wishes the public to know that he has recently refitted and improved his shop and now has as neat and attractive tonorial parlor as there is in the State. With none but the most skilled barbers employed Silas says he is in a position to guarantee satisfaction to all. He asks you to give him a call.

It is reported that W. L. Mathews has severed his connection with the H. K. Co. and will devote his time to the office of Circuit Clerk. Lat has been with the Company for several years and always held a very responsible position. He is familiar with the Company's landed interests and his place in the real estate department will be hard to fill.—Wayne County Journal.

About April 7th there will be a change of service on the Iron Mountain. The Cotton Belt train will be pulled off and an Iron Mountain night train put on in its place. The new train will run through to Charleston and will carry two sleepers and connect at Delta with the Cotton Belt. One sleeper will run through to Texas over the Cotton Belt and one from St. Louis to Charleston.—Fredericktown Democrat-News.

The A. V. Band will give a Spider Web, to be followed by a Ball, Monday evening, April 8th, at the Academy of Music. The prizes will be numerous, and some of them very desirable. Arrangements are being made to insure to every purchaser the string he is entitled to. There will be no "mix up" or misplaced numbers this time. Admission to the hall free. String tickets, 25c each. Tickets for the dance, extra.

Dr. Villars went to Bismarck, Tuesday, to visit his nephew, Sam Collier, the druggist, who is still sick with pneumonia, though recovering. He reports the appearance of the burned district as one of genuine desolation. Many of the victims of the fire are, he says, in a state of extreme destitution and he recommends that all charitable efforts should, for the present at least, be directed toward their relief instead of toward the rebuilding of a church, which can much better afford to wait.—Fredericktown Tribune.

Gov. Dockery has appointed, under the provisions of the elementary appropriation bill, a new board of commissioners to expend the money appropriated for Asylum No. 4. Mr. Allen, chairman of the old board, is retained, and Judge J. F. Green of Jefferson county and Frank Wells of Bollinger county are the other two appointments—the board consisting of three instead of five members, as heretofore. Our people would have been pleased to have had the old board retained, as they were faithful and efficient in the discharge of their duties, and were conversant with the general plans adopted, which should be carried out.—Farmington Times.

Contrary to all expectations, a vote was reached in the Senate, on the last day, by which the House game and fish bill was passed. It provides as follows: It is unlawful to kill deer between January 1 and October 1; quail or similar birds, between January 1 and November 1; doves, from January 1 to August 1; wild ducks, from April 1 to October 1. For a period of five years it is unlawful to sell or buy any wild deer, quail or wild turkey. The same section prohibits shipment of game from one county to another, though shipment from other states is unrestricted. Seining of fish is also prohibited. Violation of this provision is punishable by a fine of from $25 to $100 for each offense.

Following is the new stray law, passed by the late legislature: "If any animal liable to be taken up be found on any plantation on the 15th day of December of any year or on any day thereafter until the 15th day of April following, the occupant thereof shall cause notice of such stray to be filed in the office of the clerk of the county court of the county thereof within five days after the finding of such stray. Said notice shall be substantially the same as that of intention to post and must be given before any animal liable to be taken up can be posted under the provisions of this chapter. Any person failing to comply with the provisions of this section shall be liable to a fine of not less than $10.

Wednesday evening of last week a favored half-dozen Irontonians took one of Collins' rigs and went to the convent, by special invitation. The night was cold, dark and gloomy, and the lights and warmth within the College walls were to us doubly cheerful and comforting. Greeted by Rev. Father Werner and the good Sisters we were soon "at home" in the spacious Recreation Hall—expectant, indeed, of good entertainment, but by no means anticipating the very rare treat in store for us. The hall was well filled by the Sisters and their pupils and the invited guests, among the latter being two ladies and two gentlemen from St. Louis. In front of the stage stood two elegant grand pianos lately purchased, whose virtues in tone, volume, etc., we understood were to be tested that evening. They are massive as well as artistic pieces of furniture, beside which the piano of earlier date and ruder construction would show like a common deal table beside the latest mahogany "extension"—only more so. We are unfamiliar with the details of piano construction, of course, and cannot point out this excellence or that defect—if defect there be—but are left to judge of the instrument by results, and even in that may be incompetent. The Divine Art is so near that heavenly perfection all immortals hope some time to attain, that reckless is the layman who seeks to enter up judgment in its court. Nevertheless, we have our liking and to us it is all-sufficient. So here goes! The first selection given was a two-piano production by two young ladies of the college. Clearness and brilliancy of tone and firmness and elasticity of touch, at once decided the excellence of the instruments and the proficiency of the players. The rendition was enthusiastically applauded. It was a meritorious introductory to such a musical feast as is rarely given to us of the backwoods verdant and fallow to the touch of the charmer. We cannot, for want of space, follow the programme step by step, but must be content with one or two of its salient features. Not a number of it but was pleasing, as the delighted auditors emphatically testified; but the renditions by the Misses Stark and Cotte of St. Louis were revelations. The former gave us three or four piano selections—all from memory—and for the first time we were made aware of the power of that instrument and the approach to perfection to which a devotee of music may attain. Every movement was graceful and unaffected, confident and certain. Beneath the touch of her fingers sprang bouquets of harmony to grace the passing flow of melody, and the air was filled with sweetest chimes, with never a bell jangled nor out of tune. The concluding chords came ever too soon, while the hearers wished the "double bars" still a mile away. Succeeding Miss Stark came Miss Cotte with "the king of instruments" at her nod and beck. Clear-toned, full and free were the strings in response to her facile bow and deft fingers; now jubilant, now pleading, and anon merry, with captivating sound. But what's the use of words except to show their inadequacy in contrast with music's soulful appeals. Words to the grounding sense; music to the soaring soul! And so we leave these graceful artists to the triumphs sure to come to them, with our humblest of admiration and wishes for their future welfare. One of the most pleasing and interesting numbers in the programme was a concerted piece for six violins and piano, given by some younger College pupils. It gave evidence of careful instruction and budding genius, and the youthful players won the hearts of the audience. Others there were, too, whose efforts, far beyond the ordinary, deserve more than passing notice. The hour for retirement came too soon, and as a pleasant hour with the gentlemen in Father Werner's room we woke up the driver, helped him untie the Ghordian knot by which he had hitched his team, and home we sped.

Strikes a Rich Find.
"I was troubled for several years with chronic indigestion and nervous debility," writes F. J. Green, of Lancaster, N. H. "No remedy helped me until I began using Electric Bitters, which did me more good than all the medicines I ever used. They have also kept my wife in excellent health for years. She says Electric Bitters are just splendid for female troubles; that they are a grand tonic and invigorator for weak, run down women. No other medicine can take its place in our family." Try them. Only 50c. For sale by all Druggists.

PERSONAL.
F. B. Beard is now at Piedmont. Representative Horn was a caller Wednesday.
W. L. Mathews of Greenville was in town Sunday.
V. M. Ake and A. Reel are at home from Louisiana.
W. W. Strother and wife visited in Des Arc last week.
James Vance and wife of Flat River visited relatives here the past week.
Mrs. W. T. O'Neal and daughter, Miss Nettie, are in St. Louis this week.
Miss Maude Edgar and friend, Miss Moore, visited friends in St. Louis this week.
Mr. and Mrs. Ray Stamp of Des Arc were visitors to Ironton Thursday of last week.
Miss Mabel Reynolds, who is attending school in Mexico, visited her parents here last week.
Miss Mary Mulligan of Chicago and sister, Miss Maggie, of St. Louis, visited their father here last week.
Mrs. C. D. Alexander and little daughter, Miss Estelle, visited Judge Hampton and family the past week.

The Treasury of God.
At St. Paul's Church a couple Sunday evenings ago the pastor spoke of the obligation of the tithe or giving a tenth of one's income to religion and charity, from Genesis 27:20-21-22, where was rendered the vow of Jacob to give a tenth if he would receive food and clothing. Disclaiming to be an authority on the subject, any one wishing to consult about it was recommended to do so with those who have put it in practice; publications by an individual in Chicago who spends thousands of dollars in circulating them under the name "Layman," 310 Ashland avenue, being also recommended. From one of these tracts quotations were made from a number who have been prospered in thus giving the tenth, also the challenge of this authority to show one instance of prosperity not following this, and yet the tithe was recommended not to get rich but because it was God's standard like keeping the Lord's day. It having been claimed that it applied only to the ancient Jews, this was shown in the words of Christ to the Pharisees, who were scrupulous to tithe everything; "These ought ye to have done." Those not church members even, could be prospered in adopting this plan. The Mormons in Utah thus maintained their great religious plant. Preachers it was claimed should give their income because of the example to others, and because they could thus set it forth better, though some might claim exemption on the ground that the priests of the old law were not subject to the tithe. If a preacher would advocate without putting in practice giving a tenth, some might be disposed to mistrust his motives. The obligation of the tithe, it was shown, extended beyond the bounds of one's own parish, but in time, congregations like individuals could not fail to be prospered in temporeal affairs as they would be spiritually, from the very first. The tithe was shown to be purely a matter of conscience, not of compulsion, and yet the speaker was inclined to be severe on those ministers who spoke against it without sufficient reasons or without even examining the results. Its indirect bearing on organic union was shown in those adopting it becoming more reasonable and being disposed to the spirit of sacrifice upon which love was based, the unity of the church being first broken through a violation of the divine law of love. The seeming impossibility of a human standard of bringing dissimilar religious bodies together was conceded, but it was devised to be more reasonable to hope that the divisions of the same denomination might be healed, in which the tithe spirit would not be without its influence in the course of time.

A Horrible Outbreak.
"Of large sores on my little daughter's head developed into a case of scald head," writes C. D. Isbell of Morgan, Tenn., but Bucklen's Arnica Salve completely cured her. It's a guaranteed cure for Eczema, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Pimples, Sores, Ulcers and Piles. Only 25c. For sale by all Druggists.

Des Arc.
This has been a banner week for drummers; eleven here in the last seven days.
Lumber is coming in slow. Farmers are busy.
Mrs. Jordan is visiting her son at Sabula.
Dr. Troney was up to see Mrs. Loyd Monday.
Mrs. Medley is very sick; not expected to live.
Rev. Stewarts was here Sunday and filled his regular appointment.
Mrs. Bessie McKee is visiting Mr. McKee's family at the Cape. Mr. McKee looks like a lost sheep since his wife is gone, and hasn't much to say.
Annie Morris is visiting Mrs. J. S. O'Neal at Mill Spring.
Chas. Simmons is at home on a lay-off.
Miss Mamie Dale is visiting friends in Des Arc.
Sorry to hear Jake Reese has been "let out" as conductor on a fast freight. His train ran into the local at Leeper. There will be a shaking up of "dry bones" when the new Superintendent of the I. M. takes hold. Our railroad men have become too neglectful in running trains, etc., and, besides, they pay no attention to how fast they run down these hills. Some of the old box and coal cars are very old and rickety. Some of them you can stick your knife in up to the handle. I loaded a car here for Ironton some time ago and Capt. Clarke wrote down and wanted to know why I loaded such a rotten car, and not to load it any more. Fast freights go through here at the rate of 40 miles an hour.
I see the road law is much better than it was, yet there is room for improvement. Why don't the county court notify the school districts to vote at this spring's election? There is not much time to lose. They can easily notify them if they try.
I see Gov. Dockery complimented the late legislators for their work at Jefferson City. There are two bills I don't think they need to be congratulated on, and that is the reduced rates on railroad fare and the Jim Crow Bill separating the colored race from the white. Every Legislator that voted to kill those two bills ought to be asked to stay at home next time.
Alf. Loyd is contemplating building a two-story brick on the Tony lots in Des Arc. His present house is too small for two families.
Wild Bill was in town Sunday.
Windy Brooks has moved to Patterson.
ISAAC.

Working 24 Hours a Day.
There's no rest for those tireless little workers—Dr. King's New Life Pills. Millions are always busy, curing Torpid Liver, Jaundice, Biliousness, Fever and Ague. Resolutions.
WHEREAS, It has been deemed best by Divine wisdom to remove from our midst our beloved brother, A. T. Current; and
WHEREAS, We mourn the loss of our departed brother; therefore be it
Resolved, That we, the members of Iron Lodge, No. 107, I. O. O. F., extend to his family our heartfelt sympathy in the hour of their great grief.
Resolved, That the Charter of this Lodge be draped in mourning for thirty days, as a token of respect in memory of our deceased brother.
Resolved, That these resolutions be placed on the records of the Lodge, a copy thereof be delivered to the family of our deceased brother, and also a copy be sent to the two Iron county papers, and also to the Triple Link for publication.
